ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Ronald C. Auvenshine, DDS, PhD is the founder and director of the Orofacial Pain Clinic at DeBakey V.A. Hospital in Houston. He lectures nationally and internationally, and serves on the editorial board of the Journal of the Texas Dental Association. Dr. Auvenshine is Past-President of the American Academy of Orofacial Pain and is a founding member of the American Board of Orofacial Pain.

M. Franklin Dolwick, DMD, PhD is professor and chair of the Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Department at University of Florida College of Dentistry. He also serves as director of the Hospital of Dentisry for Shands Healthcare. He was a pioneer in the development of TMJ arthrography and surgical procedures. Dr. Dolwick has published over 100 papers and co-authored four books.

Henry A. Gremillion, DDS, MAGD is dean of LSU School of Dentistry. Dr. Gremillion has lectured extensively in the U.S. and abroad and has authored or co-authored over 80 scientific articles, abstracts, and book chapters in the field of orofacial pain. In recent years he has focused on recruiting dental school faculty members to address education and patient care in the area of orofacial pain.

This course also serves as the first session of the five session Orofacial Pain Continuum™. Continuum directors Drs. Gremillion, Ehrlich, Klasser, and Spencer present and participate in courses throughout the continuum along with guest lecturers. The purpose of the LSU Orofacial Pain Continuum™ is to establish a new category of CE for orofacial pain that is more comprehensive than other programs yet can be completed in five weekend sessions in less than a year.

If you wish to register for the entire continuum, register for course #40-20.
