Overview

This course will provide dental professionals a review of pathologic oral conditions commonly encountered in the dental practice, as well as those less common but clinically significant entities. Numerous clinical images will be provided to give the clinician a thorough review of multiple pathologic processes. The instructors will review appropriate therapy and management of these lesions.

Each half day will be divided into two sessions. Presentations will cover the following 4 broad categories:

• Infections and reactive lesions
• Ulcers and immune-mediated diseases
• Radiopaque and radiolucent lesions
• Epithelial lesions – benign, premalignant and malignant

Learning Objectives

At the end of this course participants should be better able to:

• Diagnose lesions based on their clinical features
• Understand risk factors associated with certain entities
• Know demographics of specific disease processes
• Treat and manage conditions appropriately
• Recognize indications for referral
